European Symposium on Poultry Nutrition

10-13 JUNE 2019, GDAŃSK, POLAND

WELCOME TO THE 22ND EUROPEAN SYMPOSIUM ON POULTRY NUTRITION GDAŃSK, POLAND 2019

Dear Colleagues,

The 22nd European Symposium on Poultry Nutrition (ESPN) will be held from June 10 to 13, 2019 at the AmberExpo in Gdańsk (Poland). The Organizer of the Symposium is the Polish Branch of the World's Poultry Science Association (PO WPSA).

These meetings, held every two years, are the most significant forum for the exchange of information on and discussion of poultry nutrition issues in Europe, and are one of the most influential gatherings of their kind in the world. Therefore, the 22nd ESPN provides a unique opportunity to present scientific and technical achievements in poultry nutrition and their translation into practice. Attendees at the Symposium will have the opportunity to familiarize themselves with the most recent advances in poultry nutrition, and they will be able to share and discuss their views with colleagues.

On behalf of the Hosts and Organizers, I cordially invite you to participate in this Symposium, which aims to translate research into poultry production practice.

Prof. dr hab. Andrzej Rutkowski
President of the Organizing Committee
President of the Polish Branch of the World's Poultry Science Association

GDANSK (GDAŃSK)

Gdansk is a maritime capital of Poland, one of the most important tourist and cultural centers in Poland. This is the city with over a 1000 years' history, the cradle of Solidarity. Numerous monuments, natural attractions and the possibility of active leisure on the seaside of Baltic Sea – that is the reason why 6 million foreign and domestic tourists visit Gdansk every year. Gdansk is also a big economic and scientific center. For many years it takes one of the leading positions among the most interesting for investors cities in the region. There are 13 universities in Gdansk with almost 80,000 students. A wide range of accommodation possibilities, excellent conference facilities in hotels and conference centers and leisure options make Gdansk very popular and interesting destination for various business events.
